*God is looking for somebody to take

2020 VISION

moving forward with God's plan

We've been in the process of building our Charis Bible College campus in Woodland Park since 2009. Over those six years, approximately $45 million has been raised, and we have paid cash for everything. However, this summer, the bills started piling up, and I decided to slow construction because I honestly thought I was doing too much, too fast, and that I was tapping people out. When I did that, the Lord started speaking to me that I was beginning to think too small again; I was limiting Him.

God even spoke to me through my own programs, showing me that before He ever told me to begin building this campus, He had already created the supply, and everything I would need was already provided. I don't need to feel like I'm going too far, too fast. Besides, I couldn't reach His level on my own even if I tried!

However, something else needed to happen for me to go at it again, and that happened on October 4 of this year. God spoke to me that I feared being persecuted if I prospered. Now, that was a new wrinkle in my brain! I didn't even realize I'd been doing this. I stayed up nearly all night trying to write down everything God was speaking to me. Then I happened to pick up a magazine, and inside it was an article that had this written across the top:

God is looking for somebody to take the persecution of being blessed - to get beyond what people think and start caring about what He thinks.

After reading this, I wrote in my journal, "Wow, that was written directly from God to me. That's been my problem. I've been limiting God. Thank You, Father, for showing this to me. From now on, I'm saying, 'Lord, don't look any further. Here I am.' I will receive the persecution that goes along with being blessed."

If I had been aware that I was limiting God, I wouldn't have ever done it, but it was all through my flesh, my own humanness, you could say. I've been apologetic; I've been embarrassed and that grieves me. God has blessed me, chosen me, and given me a vision. He has supernaturally brought people and resources together, and I'm not going to apologize for it anymore.

So, let me share with you what I'm confessing and what I'm believing: We've started building a Bible college campus in Woodland Park, Colorado. We call the whole 150 acres The Sanctuary, a place dedicated to the glory of God. Our first building, called The Barn, was finished at 70,000-square-feet. We're now in the process of building our second building, which I've entitled Phase II, a 150,000-square-foot auditorium, with a parking garage accommodating 1,085 cars.

I really believe with all of my heart that I've been limiting God and holding back. He would be unjust to tell me to do these things and then not supply the need. The Scripture says in 2 Corinthians 9:10 that God will give seed to the sower. If you desire to give, then God will give seed to you.

I know that the Lord is speaking to people right now, and I'm just asking you to pray and do whatever He wants you to do. I declare that God is going to provide supernatural supply and abundant blessing to you and have money come to you from unusual sources. I pray this not only so that you can help me do what God's told me to but also so that you will be blessed in everything you do.

SHARPER than a Two-Edged Sword

If you don't know how your spirit relates to your soul and body, you are a dysfunctional Christian. Now, that's a strong statement, and for most Christians, this understanding isn't even on the radar. They've never even heard they have a spirit, soul, and body, much less how they relate to each other. But in 1 Thessalonians 5:23, the Apostle Paul wrote,

And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

I could teach a lot from this verse, but I just want to point out that you are a three-part being: spirit, soul, and body. I am absolutely convinced that if God had not shown me how these three parts work together, I would have lost the tremendous impact He has had on my life.

Jesus put a greater emphasis on the spirit than the flesh, which is the part of you that comprises your soul and body. The spirit is the part of you that has been completely changed, and understanding this is the key to a fruitful relationship with God. The flesh is what you feel, but the spirit is the real life-giving part of you. If you want to see what your body looks like, you can take a glance in the mirror, but you can't stare into a mirror to see your spirit. To see what your spirit is like, you have to look in the Word of God and believe what it says.

Learning how to live out of your spirit means you're not controlled by how you feel. Your body and soul may feel one way, but your spirit is in perfect unity with God. That means you can choose how you want to be. Thank You, Jesus!

I have literally created a library of teaching materials based on this single revelation, and I've been teaching the message of God's unconditional love and grace for over four decades. For many, when they realize how much there is to learn and study, they must feel overwhelmed. That's why I have put together Sharper than a Two-Edged Sword.

Understanding that I had a spirit that was complete, lacking nothing, and that God related to me by my spirit and was pleased with me has radically transformed me. I believe that if you can get the truths I share in this teaching, it'll open the door to everything else in the Christian life. This series is a compilation and summary of the sixteen most requested and important revelations God has given me. Some even call it the CliffsNotes versions of my messages. It addresses specific topics in an abbreviated form, making it easier to see how these truths are related and dependent upon one another. Put them into practice, and live the balanced Christian walk God has available to you.

Each of the sixteen subjects covered will give you an overview of some of the major things God has revealed to me. You'll get a better understanding of who God is, what He has done for you, and who you are in Christ. I believe that this is foundational to your walk with God. This teaching is available in CD, DVD and book formats. A companion workbook is also available.

are you trying to mend the veil?

By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh.

Hebrews 10:20

By saying there is a new way to approach God, this makes the old way invalid. The old way was through the keeping of the Law (Heb. 8:13). The righteousness of the Law was fulfilled by Jesus and given to all who receive His gift of righteousness (Rom. 5:15-19, 8:4; and 2 Cor. 5:21).

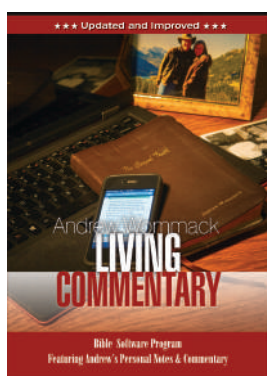

This new way is living, as contrasted with the old way of the Law, which was death (2 Cor. 3:6-10). Those still trying to relate to God based on their compliance to the Law will experience death, while those who approach the Lord through this new living way will experience the abundant life only faith in Jesus can bring (John 10:10).

The Old Testament veil that separated the holy place from the holy of holies in the tabernacle was symbolic of Jesus. Until Jesus died and tore His flesh, there was a separation between God and man that was strictly enforced. But when Jesus' flesh was crucified, the veil was torn in two (Matt. 27:51, Mark 15:38, and Luke 23:45) from the top to the bottom.

This provided us access to God through a new way that was drastically different from the OT way. The primary difference was that one sacrifice perfected us forever. We don't have to have the blood reapplied. Thank You, Jesus!

Thinking that people are again separated from God every time they sin is comparable to trying to mend the veil that separated them from God's presence in the holy of holies. It would be foolish to do such a thing. The rending of the veil was accomplished at the ultimate price. Why would people want to go back to having their way to God blocked? Likewise, why would people want to think that their future sins undo the atoning work of Christ on the cross?

GLOBAL Impact

graduating world

First Graduates of Charis West Midlands

Charis Bible College World Outreach funds are establishing Charis Bible Colleges that go into all nations and disciple. Many schools are in existence because of the gifts that you give. Because of your support, students from all over the globe have received their diplomas from Charis. It's so amazing to see how far we've come, in just seventeen years, from the humble beginnings that started it all. In 1997, Charis Ministry Ambassador Wendell Parr and his wife, Linda, "hopped over the pond" to England, where they established the very first Charis location outside of the Colorado main campus. In 1999, they graduated their first class - 11 students total. How times have changed! Now, in 2015, we have sixty Charis locations throughout the United States and the world! We also have 550 graduates on six continents and in nineteen countries.

This is the fruit of your continued support of Charis World Outreach. Now, numbers are great, but we are into changing lives and equipping others to do the same! One such life was Jessica Ketchum, a Charis Colorado and third-year Media School graduate. She moved to Russia to work with the Charis location in Saint Petersburg, using her skills to impact students around the world. "It was so amazing to see firsthand the far-reaching effects of Charis World Outreach," recalls Jessica. "From the bustling, cathedral-lined streets of Saint Petersburg to the quiet villages of the Russian countryside, I met and spoke with students who were under the same instruction as I had been. We didn't speak the same language or have much of anything at all in common, but we'd had the same instructors and same teaching - all founded on the same Word of God. This created a bond of trust that enabled me to speak into their lives. They didn't see me as an American but, rather, as a former Charis student. The impact is greater than you think," she remarks. "I don't think we'll see the full reality of the lives impacted till we get to heaven."

This is just one of the many examples of the fruit that is coming from Charis World Outreach as we continue establishing schools around the world. When you give to Charis World Outreach, you are not only aiding in the creation of more classrooms, but you are also enabling students from all over the world to study under the Word of God, giving them the tools to fulfill their destinies.

We've come a long way from that first graduating class of eleven students. It would not have been possible if not for the faithful men and women we are proud to call our partners and friends. New schools are being planned to meet the requests Charis World Outreach gets from all around the world! Thank you for your sacrifice to bless others. We are excited about teaming up with you to take the Gospel of Christ to the nations!
