Lessons from Elijah

You can go to the school of hard knocks. You can experience hardships, disappointments, and failures and learn from them - or you can learn from the experience of others. The Bible is full of examples of people whose lives we can learn from. Elijah is one of those people, and God has spoken to me through his example in a powerful, powerful way. I believe that if you would open your heart and receive, there are lessons from the life of Elijah that would save you a lot of the heartache from learning the hard way.

Elijah rose to a position that very few people have ever reached. He was the first person recorded in Scripture to see a person raised from the dead. He called fire down out of heaven.

He walked with God to such a degree that he never experienced death - God literally caught him up into heaven (2 Kgs. 2:11).

And yet Elijah failed to do two-thirds of the things that God spoke to him in an audible voice, and as a result, people died. There were famines - people even ate their own children. All of this gets laid at the feet of Elijah because he did not do what God called him to do. But that wasn't the end of it. Elijah's story is one of redemption, showing how God can use us despite our failures.

Before I really get into Elijah's life, I want to set the scene of the time in which Elijah lived. This is significant because it relates directly to us today. It was a time of apostasy in the nation of Israel. First Kings 16:29-33 talks about Ahab and says that he was the most ungodly king Israel had ever had. He and his wife, Jezebel, outlawed the worship of the God of Israel - the One who brought the Israelites out of Egypt and who they had been serving for hundreds of years. Elijah came into this desperate situation, and like him, we also face hostility toward believers today.

Elijah did not agree with what Ahab and Jezebel were doing, and in 1 Kings 17:1, he says:

As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word.

With these words, Elijah attacked the very foundation of Ahab's rejection of God. He boldly declared that the Lord lives. I tell you, there are a lot of Christians today who are not bold, but apologetic about the Bible because the secular world has rejected it. That is the wrong approach. We need to stand up. And if anybody needs to be embarrassed or fearful today, it ought to be the people who are rejecting the Word of God.

So one of the lessons I learned from Elijah is that it doesn't matter what the situation is in the world. If people will stand up and speak the Word of God, God can turn things around. Elijah had one of the greatest revivals ever recorded in Scripture. First Kings 18:38-39 talks about this revival:

Then the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked up the water that was in the trench. And when all the people saw it, they fell on their faces: and they said, The Lord, he is the God; the Lord, he is the God.

This revival happened because somebody took the Word of God and stood up and spoke it. One man with a word from God who was bold enough to act on it and speak it turned the entire situation around and saw a tremendous revival. I tell you that if you would take the truths of the Word of God and stand up in your realm of influence, and not be apologetic but strong, then I believe that it would make a difference. If you get persecuted and people come out against you, that's an indication that you are making a difference.

Jesus didn't always have a revival. Not everybody responded well to Him. If you are presenting the Gospel, people will either yield to it, receive the Word, and get set free, or they will push back and fight against it. Most Christians just want to get along and not rock the boat. However, 2 Timothy 3:12 says, "Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." The only Christians who aren't suffering persecution are ones who are not living a godly life and standing up for the truth. If Elijah had been afraid of rejection and not stood up and spoken the Word, we would never have heard of him.

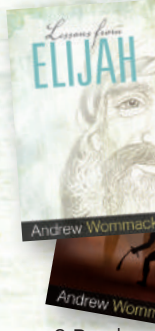

I'd like to challenge you today that you and I have a word from God, and we need to be bold. Isaiah 5:20 says that in the last days people will "call evil good, and good evil." We are living in that time, and we have to stand up and start speaking the truth. If we don't, I guarantee you the ungodly aren't going to do it. So the very first lesson that I learned from Elijah is that we need to stand up and make a difference in our society today.

I've shown you a glimpse of what you can learn from Elijah, but there's so much more, and I encourage you to get my full new and improved teaching. Healing Is Here

Healing is Here conferences see many people come through the doors sick and tired of being sick and tired, and instead, ready to experience God's extraordinary love and grace in a tangible way. It was therefore a great blessing to host Healing Is Here conferences at Charis Bible College Dumfries, Walsall and Exeter after nearly two years of restrictions.

Verses like Isaiah 53:5 and 1 Peter 2:24 reveal that our healing is paid for. All we need is to accept it, without doubting. When we are ready to trust God, a word from Him can take root in our hearts, and healing can bloom. This happened for The Booth Family who returned to Healing Is Here at Charis Bible College Walsall and shared their testimony with us:

Our son was diagnosed with autism at 3 years old. His condition included PDA (Pathological Demand Avoidance). At the age of going to secondary school his behaviour was so severe and challenging that he was going to be asked to leave the school. We prayed with Cecil Paxton and the word that God had given us was: 'All your children will be taught of the Lord and great will be their peace' (Isaiah 54:13). After Cecil prayed, a great peace came over our son. All his challenging behaviour stopped completely, and the behaviour changed to the extent that the school thought they had a different boy. His communication radically improved and his school work grades went up. Praise the Lord, Jesus!

- The Booth Family

Healing isn't just an event - a one-off change to your health. Remaining in supernatural health is a way of life and one that our speakers encourage people to walk in every day. It can be important to learn to stand for healing on your own, for times when you're away from the life-giving community of believers. Then when you're attacked, you can be confident in what you've learned and you can stand against sickness.

We believe that complete healing is for everyone, given to us by Jesus, and, even better, the power to walk in divine health.
- Gwenda Hayden, Director of Charis Bible College Exeter

Healing Is Here isn't just about guiding people to their own healing, teacher and speaker, Cecil Paxton, also helped to equip them to minister healing to others. Andrew Sharp, Director of Charis Bible College Dumfries says, "we were encouraged to establish our hearts in the truth that healing is about everything Jesus has accomplished for us on the cross.

It's not about our performance, but His. By His stripes we are healed!"

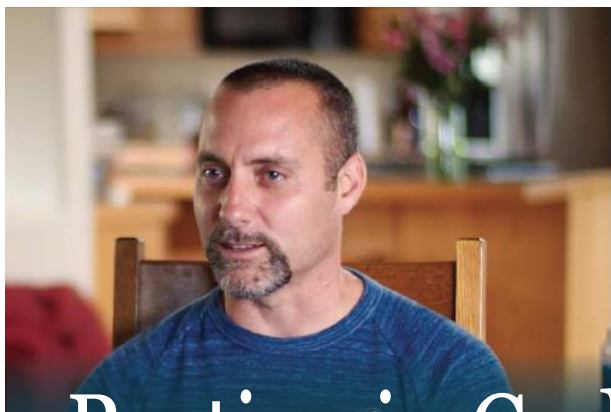

Always minister from a place of who you are in Christ, knowing that nothing is impossible. You already are an overcomer, you've got what you need, you lack nothing! It's just beneficial to learn to minister with a dependence on His life from within.
- Cecil Paxton, Healing Is Here 2022

This conference is an opportunity to experience God's extraordinary love and grace in a tangible way. The testimonies we've heard over the years are truly remarkable. People are drawn deeper into a relationship with the Father, claiming His promised healing as they come to understand it more.

"Jesus has given me my life back... praise God He healed me of pancreatic cancer, and I feel so well and full of God's love and peace"
- Delegate of Healing is Here, Dumfries

Resting in God's Love Brings Healing

Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.
- Proverbs 13:12

After several years of trying to receive healing with no success, Jeremiah Klaas' hope was waning.

His troubles had begun when he started experiencing strange symptoms in his body. But he thought they were a result of his lifestyle of heavy drug use, so he ignored them until half of his body suddenly went numb.

On examination by a specialist, he was diagnosed with multiple sclerosis, an incurable disease with symptoms including pain, fatigue, difficulty walking, and depression.

Jeremiah soon realised that he couldn't continue his detrimental lifestyle, but he didn't know how to stop. Years later, he got saved and delivered of drug and alcohol addiction at a rehab centre. But his chronic condition kept deteriorating. He was losing strength and muscle tone and ended up in a nursing home.

In the nursing home, he decided to spend his time seeking a good teacher of the Word. God led him to Andrew Wommack.

Jeremiah began listening to Andrew. He was especially drawn to the Healing Journeys videos on awme.net because they inspired hope that he too could be healed. Seeing the images of Mike Hoesch's tumour shrink until it disappeared made a big impact on him. Merci Santos' testimony also inspired faith as she had been healed of multiple sclerosis, the same condition Jeremiah had.

Although his mind was being renewed, Jeremiah still couldn't seem to receive his healing. He had prayed for many others, and they had been healed. But nothing seemed to be working for him. He became so frustrated that he couldn't even open the Bible without feeling bitter.

As a last-ditch effort, Jeremiah enrolled at Charis Bible College, but he got so sick and emotionally unstable in the first year that he felt like quitting. At that point, death looked appealing to him.

He then realised that in his quest for healing, he had missed the most important thing - a relationship with God. Jeremiah cried out to God for help. He says, "Once I quit and let all of my works go, I was able to just rest. All the pressure was relieved from me. Now it was all God's turn."

Jeremiah started building his relationship with God. He got so focused on God's love for him that he didn't notice his symptoms start to fade away. He subsequently received his complete healing and graduated from Charis!

He is now in full-time ministry and has published several books to share how God's love delivered him from drug addiction and multiple sclerosis.

Jeremiah did not receive his healing by following formulas or steps, but by learning to rest in the finished work of Christ. He says, "I used to have a fighting faith, but now I have a resting faith. I had that one block, and it was not knowing Him personally."

Thank you, partners, for helping make Jeremiah's healing a physical reality! To watch Jeremiah's Healing Journey, go to awmi.net/JeremiahKlaas today. And we encourage you to visit JeremiahKlaas.com to learn more about Jeremiah Klaas Ministries!

"Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you."

- Matthew 7:7

How many of you look at this verse and think, That sounds simple: I ask, and then I receive. So why am I not getting what I ask for? I'd like to focus on the word ask to help you better understand this scripture.

First, notice that ask is a verb - an action word. This implies action on your part to fulfil this scripture. The word ask is translated from the Greek parakalo several different ways, including desire, beg, crave, call for, require. When you ask, it is for something that you greatly desire. Here are eight keys in asking of God:

1. Ask. Our heavenly Father wants to be engaged in our lives and provide good things for us. When we ask, we show humility, recognising we need God.
2. Ask in His name. Jesus reminds us in John 14:13, "And whatever you ask in My name, that I will do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son."
3. Abide in God's Word. John 15:7 says, "If you abide in Me, and My words abide in you, you will ask what you desire, and it shall be done for you." To abide means to remain, dwell, continue, endure. It is through faith and patience that we inherit the promises (Heb. 6:12).

4. Ask according to God's will. First John 5:14 reads, "Now this is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us." As you know God's Word and His character, you know His will.
5. Ask with belief. Matthew 21:22 tells us, "And whatever things you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive."
6. Do not doubt. James 1:6 says, "But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea driven and tossed by the wind." At Charis Bible College, we have this expression: "Doubt your doubts."
7. Check your heart. James 4:3 explains, "You ask and do not receive, because you ask amiss, that you may spend it on your pleasures." Are you asking out of selfish motives? Also, are you asking for something that God has already given you power and authority over, such as healing?
8. Ask in agreement with others. Matthew 18:20 says, "For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them." There is blessing and power in unity and agreement.

Asking is simple, but there must be action in your ask. Ensure that you are asking based on principles from God's Word, and see doors open before you. I pray you are blessed!

AWMIMPACT: Healing School: Teaching, Training, and Healing!

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

- John 14:12

Believers often have the desire to fulfill this scripture, but they need discipleship first. We created Healing School, held at Charis Woodland Park nearly every Thursday at 1 p.m. MT, to equip believers for greater works.

Daniel Amstutz, our Director of Healing School and Dean of Worship Arts, began Healing School back in 2011. He explains its purpose:

"I wanted to see [in our students] the same passion, love, and care for people who were desiring healing that we would see in Andrew's ministry. . . . I knew the way to do it would be not only through teaching but training as well! I began to put material together that would help equip our students to become ministers of healing who would flow in the finished work of the cross and the resurrection."

Within the first few weeks of Healing School, God brought leaders who wanted to help, including Ashley and Carlie Terradez. "They poured their hearts into Healing School, and before long, it really started to take off with powerful results," Daniel says.

One miraculous testimony we've received is from Maren Hamm. She had suffered from intense pain and disease since childhood but experienced supernatural healing after attending Healing School. Visit awmi.net/MarenHamm to watch her amazing Healing Journey.

The past eleven years of Healing School have been incredible. "Not only have we seen thousands healed, but we have seen thousands trained in how to minister to the sick according to the New Covenant," Daniel says.

Healing School is always free and open to the public. We would love to see you in person, but if you are unable to attend, we encourage you to go to GospelTruth.TV to watch the live stream.

We can't thank our partners enough for making Healing School possible. Countless people are being disciplined, receiving their healings, and getting their lives back because of you!
