GOD'S Path to More Grace

God's kingdom operates differently than the system of the world. Society today operates in a lot of selfishness, pride, and arrogance - promoting one's self above others and doing things completely contrary to what the Word of God teaches. It's important that leaders in the body of Christ counter this culture, because it is vital to receiving more grace from God.

Humility is not a goal for most people, but this favor - this sought-after manifestation of God's goodness - isn't going to come as long as you're operating in pride. James 4:6 says, "But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." You have to humble yourself to have more grace operating through you. That is a huge statement. Because our society has forsaken humility and put a premium on pride, arrogance, and boasting, many are following this different pattern by default. Even Christians today have become very self-centered, promoting and depending on their selves rather than God. But God will pass over the proud to pour out His grace on someone who is operating in humility.

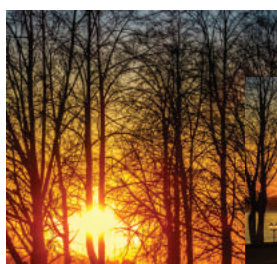

People today largely do not appreciate the power of true humility. They think it's weakness. They think it's having low self-esteem. But that's not what it is at all. Humility is actually very powerful. Moses was the meekest man on the face of the earth (Num. 12:3), but he opened up the ground that swallowed Korah, Dathan, and Abiram into the pit (Num. 16:27-33). Do you know what that is? It's meekness. In Matthew 11:29, Jesus said that He was "meek and lowly in heart." But He also took a whip and drove the money changers out of the temple, not just once, but twice (John 2:15 and Matt. 21:12). This isn't how religion and the world paint meekness or humility.

Gravity, just like humility, is a godly law. A person can walk off a tall building, and the law of gravity that God created for their benefit can kill them. Likewise, going against the law of humility in God's kingdom will hurt you because it is His law. He loves you and wants to bless you, but everything in His kingdom operates on this premise of humility. When you get into pride, you are fighting against the kingdom of God. Everything in His kingdom is against pride. So, position yourself to receive more of His grace, and see the difference it makes in your life today.

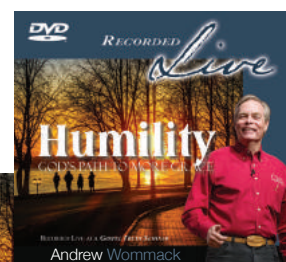

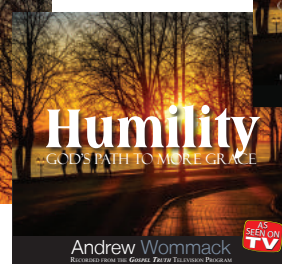

Get a biblical perspective on humility with my new teaching, Humility: God's Path to More Grace (£19). I believe this will really help you walk in a greater degree of God's grace. It is available in CD, DVD and live DVD format. To order, go to www.awme.net, call our Helpline: +44 (0)1922 473 300, or complete and return the enclosed order form.

A NEW Direction for Construction at The Sanctuary

As I'm sure you're aware, we had to pause our construction at The Sanctuary at the end of December 2015 because of finances. I actually took out a line of credit on December 22 to meet our obligations with television and salaries, but the great news is that we paid that back in less than forty-five days. Thank You, Jesus! We are back on track to do everything debt free.

My original plan was to wait until we built up a $4 million buffer before restarting construction. This was to absorb any fluctuations in income or expenses so we wouldn't run into this problem again. But something happened that has presented me with a new opportunity.

We are so cramped for space at The Barn that we are facing forced limitations on how many people can come to our conferences. We are dealing with this by possibly having students and staff go down to our facilities in Colorado Springs and watch the meetings via live stream. This only affects our major meetings, such as Summer Family Bible Conference, the Ministers' Conference, Healing Is Here, and Charis Business Summit.

But the more pressing issue is office space and our Phone Center. As I told you months ago, I gave up my office space at The Sanctuary, and we've moved as many people as possible down to our offices in Colorado Springs, which already house over 250 employees. I went to talk to one of our IT people at The Barn, and they are actually occupying a storage space on the roof for their offices.

Our Phone Center is 90 percent staffed by Charis Bible College students. This makes for wonderful prayer ministers who do a great job, but it hinders us during Charis class hours. Right now, one of our largest volumes of calls comes from Daystar viewers, beginning at 6:50 a.m. and continuing for the next hour. Our Charis students have to leave around 7:00 a.m. to make it up to Woodland Park by the start of classes at 8:00 a.m.

This drop in people available to answer calls has dramatically limited our ability to respond during this time. We are losing hundreds of calls per day. Some of them may call back later, but we don't know that for sure.

To solve these problems, my staff proposed looking at places in Woodland Park to rent for additional space. If we had our call center nearby in Woodland Park, the students would be able to take the vast majority of these dropped calls. As we began this process, the man who heads up our construction came to me with the idea of finishing off the part of Phase II that will house our new Phone Center and additional office space. I didn't know this was an option, but it appears that this will work.

So, we've come up with a new plan to finish off the second floor of Phase II on the north and east sides of the building. This will allow us to have 150 people answering the phones at one time and will give us around 100 new work spaces.

The changes to accommodate this partial build-out are very minor, and the benefit is enormous. This could be completed by August 2016, and that would be just perfect to accommodate the 1,000 students expected for the new school year beginning in September.

I feel so good about this that I instructed my staff to go ahead and pursue this plan. Of course, we need the whole building finished as quickly as possible - and I am continuing to believe for that - but this is a bite-sized piece that will provide us with some quick relief.

Over the last eighteen months, we have received an average of $791,000 per month designated for our building projects. It would require just over $1 million per month to complete this partial build-out, or an increase of about $300,000 per month over what we are receiving now. This is one-tenth of the cost of having construction on the whole building going at full throttle. I believe this is very doable and would stop the need for us having to rent additional facilities in Woodland Park.

I'm sending this letter out to the 100,000 people who receive our monthly mailings, and it will also go out to 185,000 people on our email list. We will record some television spots announcing this, reaching millions more. Altogether, this is a piece of cake for Jesus.

I'm asking you to pray about this and participate if the Lord directs you to. As I've said many times before, it's not about the buildings. These buildings are just tools that enable us to minister the true Gospel to people. But they are essential for accomplishing that goal.

Jamie and I and all the people being impacted by this ministry appreciate all you have done and will be doing to get this done. I am more convinced than ever that the Lord is doing something special at Charis. Not long ago, I was able to sit in on chapel at Charis when the students received a taste of our latest musical, God with Us.

The writers of all the original music for this were telling us about how people want them on Broadway and in Hollywood and can't understand why they are living in a small town in the mountains of Colorado. But they shared how the Lord brought them here. This is just one more example of what God is putting together.

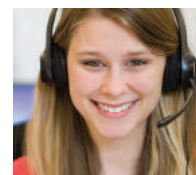

No man has done this. No man could do this. Even if I were smart enough to figure this out, there is no way I could compete with all that the secular world has to offer these people. We have millionaires and business tycoons who have fallen in love with Charis and are pouring their lives into these students. David Barton and political figures are investing time and effort into raising up people to take our nation back.

Our media department is training people to communicate the Gospel using all the tools available to us today. Our missions program and ministry track are touching lives all over the world. Our evangelism courses are making a profound impact on our students, who, in turn, are touching the people in their worlds.

Charis is doing things I've never been able to do. It's like a tank being brought into battle. Satan's kingdom is being hurt by what the Lord is doing here. Thanks for being a part of it. We couldn't do it without you.

Thanks in advance,

Andrew and Jamie

YOU Took Her Call

"I have been reaching out to the AWM prayer center for just over ten years now. Over the years, I have called in, completely hysterical. I was [diagnosed with] Dissociative Identity Disorder. I sought help in churches, mostly receiving the frustration or judgment of the pastor or congregation. However, today I am free and whole. I am one spirit with Christ. There are no more condemning voices, no more fears of missing God. I am completely set free."

Karen is just one of the many people who have called into the Andrew Wommack Ministries Helpline. As a partner, you are transforming not only her life but also the lives of thousands who call in every day. We currently receive around 30,000 calls per month.

Our prayer ministers are trained in the Word of God to speak life, healing, and deliverance over every situation and to give people powerful tools to be more than conquerors in every area of their lives.

"The last obstacle I had to overcome was a spirit of rejection," recalled Karen, "But today I am free, and whom the Son has set free is free indeed [John 8:36]. Today I truly am seated in heavenly places in Christ Jesus [Eph. 2:6]. I am born again and Spirit filled, speak in tongues, and have received so many miracles, it's hard to comprehend. God's love is so far-reaching, so long-suffering, and so eternal."

"There is just no way to describe how wonderful and patient these prayer ministers have been," Karen continued. "If they had kept paper folders of everyone's records, mine would fill an entire file cabinet. They always encourage me to never give up, that no matter what happens, what people do, or what experiences comes your way, God is always greater."

Thank you for being a part of ministering the Word of God to everyone who calls in. You have made an eternal difference in so many lives. Your seeds are being sown in good ground, and the fruit of it is being seen here every day. Karen is just one example of the impact your partnership has on the lives of the people you are touching. By being a partner, you took her call, you ministered God's love, and you helped guide her to freedom in Christ! That is the power of partnership.

"My own journey has taken me through physical healings, miraculous encounters, and pressing further into God's love and truth. However, I would not have made it through without the love, patience, and consistent availability of the AWM prayer center," Karen said. "Thank you for everything. I know God intends to utilize my story for His glory in redeeming others from the Enemy's hands."

None of this would be possible if it weren't for our partners at AWM. Thank you for stepping out in faith. Together we can reach farther and deeper with the Gospel than we ever could on our own.

SUCCESS for the Next Generation

"I didn't really decide that I wanted to attend Charis after high school until I was in my sophomore year," explained Charis Bible College graduate Brittanie Edstrom. "[For many years] my parents had suggested that I attend...but I always said that I wanted to go to regular college first and then attend Charis afterward. One day, my mom and I had a heart-to-heart about my future plans. She told me how life truly sets in after college: You start working in a career, beginning a life, getting married, building a family, and establishing roots. It's not as easy to just pick up and go. After we talked about it, it just made sense for me to go right out of high school, and it became my decision. It was the best decision I ever made!"

Andrew Wommack Ministries has provided a place through Charis for students to be both instructed in the Word and to be immersed in an environment of like-minded believers. Brittanie is just one of the many students who made the decision to attend Charis before moving on to a secular college. The time spent establishing roots in the Word, building relationships with other believers, and learning about one's identity in Christ is vital in preparing you for anything life brings.

Brittanie continued, "I feel that it was important for me to go to Charis first because I really wanted to learn about who I am, what I believe, and why, aside from what everyone else around me believed. I wanted to make sure that my relationship with God was my own so that I could build a solid foundation with Him. I feel it was important for me to really know God on a personal and intimate level. I learned how to hear His voice, so I could go where He wanted me to go. College is about finding the direction for your life, and Charis taught me how to follow God along the journey."

This journey would lead Brittanie further than she ever thought possible. Since finishing Charis, Brittanie is now getting ready to graduate with two degrees from the University of Oxford in England, all while having traveled to sixteen different countries around the world. "This is not possible for a girl from a small town in Colorado," remarked Brittanie.

If your child—or another young person in your life—is thinking about their next step after high school, consider talking with them about Charis. With correspondence, online classes, or any of the 70+ Charis locations around the world, there's an option that will fit their unique schedule.

"There's nothing that I would recommend more to a high school graduate than to go to Charis," Brittanie said. "High school graduation is a crossroads. It's the point when you make a choice about whether you want to live an ordinary life or an extraordinary one. College is about making decisions, and Charis is about preparing you to make those decisions. Without my time at Charis, I don't know if I would have been able to survive my time in college. I am beyond grateful for the time I spent growing and learning in that environment."
