THE War Is Over

Jesus forever changed the way God relates to mankind. Sure, there are scriptural examples of God's catastrophic judgment on sin, but His greatest act of judgment was when He placed all His wrath for our sins upon Jesus. This forever satisfied God's wrath. Since that time, God hasn't been judging our sins (2 Cor. 5:19). God's not angry at us. He's not even in a bad mood.

Look at the angels' joy over the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem:

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Luke 2:13-14

You're probably familiar with this passage, yet there is a lot of misunderstanding about what it's saying. Some translations basically say that they were proclaiming "goodwill among men" or "peace to men of goodwill." So, it's been interpreted to mean that Jesus was bringing peace on earth among people. But that's not why these angels were praising God. If that interpretation were true, then Jesus's own words in Matthew would contradict this. He said,

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law. And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.

Matthew 10:34-36

Jesus Himself said that He was not sent to bring peace on the earth among people. The peace that the angels were praising God for (Luke 2:13-14) was peace between God and man. They were announcing the end of God's war on sin. Peace now reigns between God and man.

Prior to Jesus's coming, there was wrath from God against man for his sins. It wasn't total wrath. Even in the Old Testament, we see God's mercy and grace. Yet the Old Testament Law was a ministry of wrath (Rom. 4:15; 2 Cor. 3:7, and 9), and people's sins were held against them. But when Jesus came, God quit holding people's sins against them. This is exactly what 2 Corinthians 5:19 and 21 says:

To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation. . . . For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

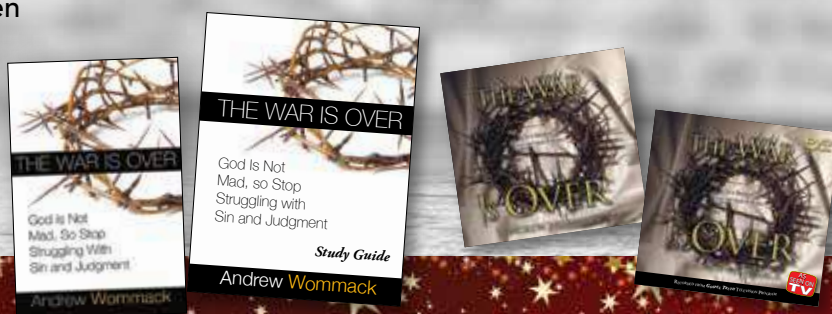

The word "reconciliation" is talking about making peace. God was no longer holding us accountable. Instead, He imputed our sins to Jesus, making Jesus accountable for our sins.

THE WAR IS OVER PACKAGE

Many wars have been fought throughout history, and more are yet to come. However, the most important one—the one between God and man—is over, and most Christians don't even know it. Learn more with The War Is Over Package.

Package

Jesus became what we were so that we could become what He was - the righteousness of God.

Jesus was like a lightning rod that drew all the judgment of God unto Himself (John 12:32). He not only bore our sins; He actually became sin (2 Cor. 5:21). Sin is no longer a problem with God. It's the church that has made it a big deal. But none of your past, present, or even future sins can separate you from God. The only people who will go to hell are those who have spurned and rejected His unspeakable gift. In heaven, you won't answer for your sin; Jesus already has. You will answer for your acceptance or rejection of Jesus.

Now, you might be thinking, You're just giving people a license to sin. The last time I checked, people are doing a pretty good job sinning without a license. What I'm saying will not free you to sin; it will free you from the condemnation and the guilt that comes when you do sin.

You might say, "Well, if God isn't judging me for sin, why live holy?" That's a good question, and to answer it, read what Paul wrote in his letter to the Romans:

Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

Romans 6:16

If you yield to Satan through sin, you open the door for him to destroy your life through sickness, poverty, relationship issues, emotional problems, and all kinds of things. It won't be because God is out to get you; He loves you. It's just that sin gives Satan an inroad into your life. So, continuing to sin is just stupid (Rom. 6:1-2).

There is so much more I want to share with you about this. I encourage you to get my teaching The War Is Over, which I'm offering as part of The War Is Over Package. This package includes The War Is Over book, study guide, and CD or DVD series. You know, I always talk about changing the way the world sees God, and the Christmas season is an opportune time for people to hear the Gospel message. In December, most people are more sensitive to God than they are any other time of the year. Many of them would never come across my ministry on their own. Perhaps you have family or friends who fit into this category. So, once you receive this message, you can take advantage of the season and share it with them. Order this package for yourself, but also order it as a gift for them. You might be surprised to find that they are waiting to hear the Good News!

HEALING Is Here

During November, our Charis Walsall and Belfast campuses hosted this year's second instalment of 'Healing Is Here'. Guest speakers included Charis Colorado Healing School Director Daniel Amstutz and Carlie Terradez.

Between both locations, 'Healing Is Here' hosted 467 guests and we saw many of them receive their healing. This event is always well attended, with delegates travelling from all over the UK, as well as from European destinations further afield. It is a special time as the Word is made manifest through worship, teaching and the laying of hands. Daniel and Carlie spent time in conversation to establish Biblical foundations and preparing hearts to receive; this is an important time during the conference as people grasp understanding to ensure the longevity of the healing when it is received.

"I've been in pain in my lower back and down my right leg for the past two weeks. On Thursday night I received prayer and I can now walk properly and bend over to pick up things up without pain!" – Mavis, HIH Walsall

"I'd been struggling with a burning sore throat for the past couple of days. I receive prayer and it left instantly." - Anna, HIH Walsall

"I could feel the large growth on my liver physically shrinking in my hand while I prayed during the time of ministry." - Robert, HIH Belfast

Thank you to all of the delegates who attended, we encourage you to take the time to meditate on everything that was shared, and to prepare your heart for the manifestation of God's promises in your life.

CHINESE Translation Efforts: Full Speed Ahead

Would it surprise you to learn that Chinese is the most spoken language in the world? It's true. About 1.2 billion people—roughly one in six—speak some form of Chinese as their first language. So, what is Andrew Wommack Ministries doing to take the Gospel of grace to Chinese speakers in their native tongue?

Efforts officially began in 2012, when a Charis Bible College Colorado graduate pioneered the Charis Hong Kong campus. Because Charis curriculum had not yet been translated into Chinese, the Hong Kong school opened with English curriculum only. But two years later, in 2014, Charis Colorado Ministry School graduate Cindy Pearson moved into directorship at the school, bringing with her a heart for Asia and twelve years of experience working as a professional in China. A Chinese speaker herself, she established vital connections in the Hong Kong area, and efforts commenced to translate Andrew's materials and Charis curriculum into both Traditional and Simplified Chinese.

In the four years since then, with the help of five translators, two proofreaders, and a Hong Kong company that subtitles Charis course videos, a lot has been accomplished. Six of Andrew's books, the written Discipleship Evangelism Complete 48-Lesson Course (DE), eight Healing Journeys stories, numerous articles, and other miscellaneous projects have all been translated. Due to the generosity of a local Hong Kong church, the DE videos have also undergone translation. In addition, the entire first year of Charis curriculum translation is now complete, and efforts have begun on second year.

As a direct result of the translation campaign, thousands of Andrew's books in Chinese have been sold throughout Hong Kong, Southeast Asia, the States, and other parts of the world. Also impressive is the effect the campaign has had on the Charis Hong Kong student population, which has ballooned from 6 in 2014 to currently over 300. More than 90 percent of enrollees are Chinese-speaking correspondence students located in countries such as Malaysia, Singapore, Taiwan, and the United States. And because some correspondence students are required to complete twenty-four lessons of DE and teach eight of them to others, the life-changing seeds of the Word are reaching beyond the students and into the hearts of Chinese speakers across the globe.

Just like it does in every other language, the message of God's love and grace in Chinese is setting people free from legalism and traditionalism. One Chinese speaker, "Debra," has listened to the "A Sure Foundation" Charis course in Chinese so many times that she has it memorized. With a heart on fire for sharing God's love and grace, she now travels and shares it with others. But the grace message is also impacting entire Chinese-speaking churches. The pastor of one multi-location congregation in Asia requires that his 100 leaders go through Charis's first-year correspondence course in order to be promoted in leadership.

With translation efforts continuing at full speed, Cindy, also the director of AWM Hong Kong, says the vision to reach Chinese speakers has expanded beyond Asia:

"We used to have a vision for Asia, but now we have a vision for the world. There are so many Chinese speakers around the world—in Canada, Australia, England, even Texas. We need to get the message out there now that we have the materials available for them."

On November 4, 2014, the Lord spoke to me and said, "The reason I've raised you up is to change people's opinion of Me. As their opinion of Me changes, they will go out and change the world." So, the Lord was basically telling me that I'm not the one who's going to go change the world. But as I change people's opinion of Him, He will raise them up to do it.

People ask me how I develop my teaching series and what it takes to be in ministry for fifty years. My answer to the former is they develop from many different places. But perhaps one of the greatest sources of inspiration for my teachings is the conversations I have with the people I minister to. It helps me find out whether they're getting what I'm saying or if they're making a wrong application. I really think that by having so much contact with the people, it helps me to change what I'm teaching—not change the heart of what I'm saying, but change the wrapping so they can receive it better. It's truly helping people see lasting change and not just get a spiritual tickle in the moment.

My answer to how I've been able to be in ministry for so long is really simple: just don't quit. Get started and don't quit. Galatians 6:9 says that in due season, you'll reap if you faint not. But how do you keep from quitting? You have to have a relationship with the Lord. When I look back on my life, I could've done a thousand things differently from the way that I did them, and it would've made things a lot easier. But, see, I had a relationship with God, and that sustained me through everything. You have to keep looking to Jesus, the Author and Finisher of your faith (Heb. 12:2). You can't look at the circumstances. Our ministry is at the place now where we've burned our bridges and made it so that we can't quit. We're out there on a limb. But out on the limb is where the fruit grows.

Every one of the steps God had me take has increased my faith. If I hadn't been faithful in those steps, I would not be able to do what I'm doing today. And if you are trying to believe God for something, whether you're believing for a thousand dollars or a million—it doesn't matter the amount—you've got to take steps and start trusting God. As you become faithful in one area, it's like you raise the water level. Your faith rises as you put it to work and see something happen. It's ever-increasing faith.

I don't know what my part is or exactly how it fits into the whole. I just know what God's told me to do, and I'm out to do it. That's really all my goal is: to follow the Lord. And as more people do the same, we can change this world.
