THE Power of a Testimony

It's hard to tell someone who's been healed that God doesn't heal. They already know the truth. That's why a testimony is so powerful. I believe it's one of the reasons the Scripture says, "And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony" (Rev. 12:11). It's your testimony that's going to cause you to overcome.

You might say, "I don't have a testimony yet." Well, "yet" is the keyword. Even if all you have is the test right now, you can still receive the power of a testimony through someone else. I've released six volumes of Healing Journeys, which recount how people just like you have received their healings. Their stories are inspiring! I believe you will really benefit from seeing their faith in action (Rom. 1:12). Below are three of the stories you'll find on the DVDs.

Faith, Not Works

Mike Hoesch didn't pay much attention to the small sore on his chest. It started out as a minor annoyance - an itch that wouldn't go away. But after a year, he decided to get it checked out.

He found out it was a malignant skin tumor. A spirit of fear instantly gripped him, but deep down, he knew God could heal him. He turned to God's Word and searched for things he could do to get God to move on his behalf.

But he didn't get better, only worse. "For the next five years, [the tumor] clung to me and sucked the life right out of me," Mike shares. "I grew so weak."

Mike got to the place where he had given up hope when a friend brought him Andrew's teaching You've Already Got It! The message resonated with his spirit. Then one day, Mike came across Matthew 21:22, which says, "And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive."

It was a scripture he'd been familiar with, but this time, he read it backwards: if you have received, you have believed. That was a revelation for him.

"God had been trying to share with me that when Jesus went to the cross, He purchased my healing," Mike says. "There wasn't anything else I had to do but believe and receive." Once Mike received the revelation of healing, no one could convince him otherwise: "I noticed after about a month, the tumor got smaller. I wasn't surprised, because I knew I was healed. Within six months' time, it was completely gone."

Believing God's Word over Man's

Trina Porter didn't know that Andrew's teachings were preparing her for a life-or-death trial. Her husband, Alistair, fell off a roof in a freak accident that left him in a coma. Unable to pray for himself and unable to believe for his own healing, it was up to her to receive for him.

Trina immediately sought God in prayer. "God just said to me, 'He'll be all right,'" she says. God's response to her put her mind at ease, but then she arrived at the hospital. "His head was so swollen and misshapen, he was almost unrecognizable," Trina recalls.

The doctors told her that the fall should have killed her husband instantly. She quietly had a conversation with God. "I said to God, 'You said he'd be okay.' And God very clearly said to me, 'And I haven't changed My mind.'"

Then Trina boldly told the doctor, "You go in there, and I promise you, this will be the best day's work you've ever done."

It was a long night for both the surgeons and the Porters. As Trina remembers it, she says, "The surgeon came to the door. . . . He was still in all his greens [with] the little mask around his neck." Trina continues, "He just smiled, and I said to him, 'Best day's work you've ever done?' [and he said,] 'Yep.'"

There was no permanent brain damage to be found, and just three weeks after the accident, Al was ready to be released!

She's Going to Be Fine

God indeed wants you well. But sometimes in order to get well, you have to be willing to look crazy. That's what happened when Bud Boop dared to challenge a doctor who told him his wife, Gina, had a grade 5 brain aneurysm.

"The neurologist comes in, and he examines her and tells me, 'Once we put the little hole in her head to relieve the pressure from the aneurysm, [there's a] 10 percent chance she survives that. If she survives that, she won't come out of the operating room the next morning,'" Bud recalls. "[And I] said, 'You know, those are great facts, but Jesus Christ has healed her 2,000 years ago. She's going to be just fine.'"

Bud remembered Andrew saying in one of his teachings that how you start a battle is usually how you finish it. After surgery and spending six grueling weeks in the hospital, Bud was able to bring Gina home, something the doctors said was impossible. But with God, all things are possible!

The power of a testimony is real! When you experience the faith of another, I tell you, it's contagious. And these stories are just the tip of iceberg. You can watch the complete stories and many more on the Healing Journeys, Volume 1-6 DVDs, which I'm offering as part of the God Wants You Well Package.

The God Wants You Well Package includes all six Healing Journeys DVDs, a USB with over thirty-eight hours of my teaching on healing, the Introduction to God Wants You Well booklet, and the God Wants You Well CD series, book, and study guide. LEGACY Giving at AWME

As a Partner or friend of Andrew Wommack Ministries – Europe (AWME), you will already know much about the work we seek to deliver and the impact on the nations we seek to be part of; with the intent not only to transform lives with the good news of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, but to transform whole societies for generations to come. Through your Partnership and donations, your support already enables the advancement of the Christian faith to the people of the United Kingdom and beyond.

We already see what a gift God has given us, equipping us to use the resources of this temporary life to make an eternal difference! Together, we can and will change the world – and we are often asked by Partners and friends: ‘What more can I do?’, ‘How else can I help?’.

This question has prompted us to introduce a new, long-term way that you can support the work of the ministry; through leaving a legacy for the charity in your Will.

As a registered charity, Andrew Wommack Ministries - Europe relies on the support –financially, practically and in prayer – from our Partners and donors to enable us to carry out the work that we do, supporting people to come to better know and understand God’s love and grace through the Gospel. For us, supporting the continued awareness of and enabling access to Discipleship education, prayer and gospel ministry, are key goals that cannot be achieved without your support.

Including Andrew Wommack Ministries - Europe as a beneficiary of your Will is simple and easy to do and will provide a long-lasting legacy as we endeavour to share the full Gospel with all the world and bring more people to know and believe in the One True Eternal God, and by faith receive Jesus Christ as Lord and saviour.

While we know that long life and divine health are part of our inheritance as believers, we also all know that our time here on Earth will come to an end. By creating a Will you will ensure that you have your affairs in order, which can help your loved ones to deal with your loss, as it makes your wishes and intentions clear for them to follow.

Any donation to our work – however small or big – helps us work towards our objectives. Should you decide that you would like to leave Andrew Wommack Ministries - Europe a legacy, you can find a lot more information about doing so on our website, www.awme.net/legacy, including some questions that are important to consider when creating a Will.

Should you still have questions after reading this information, or if you would like to discuss leaving a legacy, please do not hesitate to contact our Finance Manager or Managing Director on +44 (0)1922 473300.

Thank you again for your love and support of all that we are seeking to do in the name of Jesus. You are a blessing to us!

THE Right Person

Have you ever felt inadequate for the call of God on your life? Has the Enemy ever whispered that you're only going to mess things up? In the midst of that fear, you have a choice to either give in to the lies or to give in to faith.

Charis Bible College Chicago graduate Jane Landato faced this exact choice when she was asked to take over as director of the very school she'd graduated from. She had served as the coordinator for Charis Oswego, a satellite of the Chicago campus, but began to feel a call from God to become the director in Chicago.

"For the next two weeks, I tried convincing God He had the wrong person," Jane recalls. "In the natural, I felt like I was unqualified for this position. I have very little computer skill and knew nothing about being a director."

Jane continues, "I accepted the position after finally realizing the Lord was asking me if I thought He could do this. I said, 'Yes, Lord, I know You can.' He said, 'Then let Me do it through you.' I was humbled and cried at the thought of all of this happening to me. I am very grateful and blessed to serve God's people in this capacity."

Jane readily declares that she now has the best job in the world. She is in a position to see the transformations that take place in the students' lives, watching them grow and find freedom from wrong thinking and religious traditions.

And to think that Jane could have missed all of this if she had allowed her fears to paralyze her. But she overcame feeling unqualified by allowing the Holy Spirit to work through her and by stepping out in faith every day.

The students are also taking steps of faith for themselves and seeing incredible results. "Two students took a step of faith by enrolling at Charis," explains Jane. "In the natural, they didn't have the finances to attend, but [they] felt God wanted them there. God spoke to two other students [who] anonymously came forth and paid their entire first year's tuition. They were at the right place at the right time!"

Don't let the Enemy paralyze you in your tracks. What if you are the right person for the job God asks of you? Which choice will you make?

"All things are possible with God," Jane concludes. "He can open doors that seem impossible, in the natural. I would say to anyone who is feeling inadequate to step out of the boat and trust Him. You will not be disappointed."

This would not be possible without the support of our Charis Bible College World Outreach partners. If you are one of those partners, thank you! To give a special gift to Charis World Outreach or to become a partner, go to www.awme.net/about/world-outreach. Together we are changing the world!

ROMANS 4:8

Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

The Greek words translated “will not” in this verse are what is called “a double negative, strongly expressing a negation” (Vine’s Expository Dictionary). This is the strongest language possible that states that those who receive forgiveness will not ever have their sins held against them.

Most Christians have the concept that the sins they committed before they professed faith in Christ were forgiven at salvation, but any sins committed after that time are not forgiven until they are repented of and forgiveness is asked. That is not the case.

All our sins - past, present, and future - were forgiven through the one offering of Jesus (Heb. 10:10 and 14). If God can’t forgive future-tense sins, then none of us can be saved, because Jesus only died once, nearly 2,000 years ago, before we had committed any sins. All our sins have been forgiven.

Why, then, 1 John 1:9?

If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

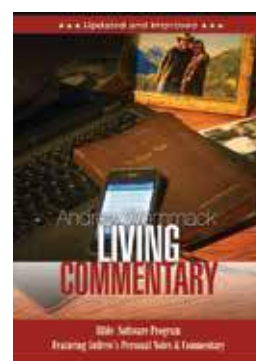

This is not speaking of the eternal salvation of our spirits but, rather, the salvation of our souls (James 1:21 and 1 Pet. 1:9). It’s our spirits that are born again at salvation, and sin will never be imputed to our born-again spirits.

However, when we do sin, the devil has a legal right to bring his forms of death into our soulish area (Rom. 6:16). How do we get the devil out once he has gotten in? We confess the sin, and God brings out into the soulish realm the forgiveness that is already a reality in our born-again spirits, and the devil has no right to stay.

If we had to confess every sin committed after our born-again experience to maintain our salvation, none of us would ever make it. What if we forgot to confess some sin? That puts the burden of salvation back on us.

We must remember that our spirits are clean and pure (Eph. 4:24, Heb. 12:23, and 1 John 4:17) and will not change due to our performance.
