LAST COMMANDMENT, FIRST PRIORITY YOUR IMPACT IN 2023

We his servants will arise and build.
Nehemiah 2:20

What a year it's been!

For the last twelve months, you have enabled our Charis World Outreach team to empower Andrew's vision to take the Gospel message as far and as deep as possible. You've helped us take new ground, translate materials into new languages, and send off over one thousand global graduates.

As we prepare for everything God has in store for us in 2024, we want to pause for a moment and give you, our partners and friends, a glimpse into some of the many ways your support is helping us make Christ's last command our first priority.

World Outreach welcomed a new leader in 2023, David Briggs, who is serving as our Executive Director. David had one word to describe this past year:

The word growth keeps coming to the forefront. I started working with World Outreach about fourteen months ago as a consultant and was immediately impressed with its scope and growth. In short, World Outreach is increasing and strengthening its infrastructure to support the organic expansion it has had and to accommodate the growth it is anticipating for this coming year.

Disciples Equipped with Power

From this organic growth, 1,052 Charis students and interns graduated from our international locations in 2023, an outpouring of disciples sharpened in the power of God's Word.

With 3,588 current students enrolled internationally and online, the demand for discipleship has produced our newest Charis location in Mbarara, Uganda, bringing our total to thirty schools outside the United States. As our students take their training outside the walls of the classroom, supernatural signs and wonders follow them, including restoring hearing to deaf ears, healing bullet wounds, and even raising the dead.

"Numbers are important in measuring growth," shares David, "but what is more important is the individual lives being changed, set free, disciplined, and empowered to take the Gospel message of grace and faith to our generation."

Materials for Every Tribe, Nation, and Tongue

Building on this momentum, our translation team oversaw the tremendous task of translating forty-four books into different languages this year, with materials currently being translated into thirty-two different languages globally.

With an emphasis on strategic growth, we're continuing translation of our second-year Charis curriculum into French, a language that touches twenty-eight different nations. And recently, we began translation of Andrew's books into Farsi (spoken in the Middle East), starting with one of his most popular titles, Spirit, Soul & Body.

"I truly believe World Outreach is raising up a generation of world changers," David says. "As we take seriously the mandate of making Christ's last command our first priority, the growth projection is strong and the future is bright as the Lord supplies the vision."

You Are Ushering in Global Revival

Of course, none of what we've accomplished this year would be possible without the continued financial support of our World Outreach partners and friends.

David remarks, "Every person who comes to Christ, every believer who is disciplined around the world, and every life that is supernaturally changed is a direct result of the generosity and willingness of our partners. Thank you for allowing us to be a service platform to give you expression and ministry around the world."

With 2023 behind us and our future brighter than ever, we enter this new year brimming with hope. Let us be encouraged that we serve a limitless God, and we have only seen a glimpse of the great things He has in store.

As increasing numbers of people around the world search for truth, our international team will continue to bring the message of God's unconditional love and grace to every tribe, nation, and tongue. May 2024 be our best year yet.

"With a focus on capacity and expansion, our World Outreach team is prepared to work diligently to open new territory and increase our reach around the world," declares David. "Like in the days of Nehemiah, we are saying, 'We . . . will arise and build' [Neh. 2:20]. Together we can."

What a year it will be!
