HEALING JOURNEYS

The Power of a Testimony

I love seeing the power of God in action. It's one thing to talk about healing, but it's another to see it happening in real lives. You can't argue with a testimony. The Bible says in Revelation 12:11 that they overcame "by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony" and they loved not their lives unto the death. Testimonies are powerful. Sometimes they reach people in ways that theology and teaching won't.

On my Gospel Truth broadcast this month, I'm sharing testimonies we've received from people all over the world who've experienced the healing power of God. We've captured their stories in nine volumes of Healing Journeys videos, and they're powerful evidence that if God has done this for others, He can do it for you. In fact, He not only can—He wants to. God loves you, and He wants you well.

A Child Healed of Stage 4 Neuroblastoma: Andrew Mullins' Story

In 2011, Andrew was just 17 months old when doctors diagnosed him with stage 4 neuroblastoma. Think about that—only 17 months old, with cancer in nearly every bone in his body and a massive tumor pressing against his spine. His parents were told he had about a 30 percent chance to live. Most people would collapse under news like that. And although they felt fear, they didn't let it dominate them.

They got hold of the Word of God and started listening to my teaching God Wants You Well. That's how faith comes—by hearing—and hearing by the Word of God. They didn't just listen casually; they acted on it. They laid hands on their little boy and declared, "By His stripes, you are healed."

Every day, they spoke Scripture over him, reinforcing the truth that God had already made him whole. They chose faith over fear. By October 2012, Andrew was completely cancer-free. No trace of it. Today he's thriving, full of life and energy.

Healed of Cervical Cancer: Jolien's Story

Jolien's story is powerful, and it shows how your thinking can either keep you trapped or set you free. She was raised in a family involved in New Age practices and witchcraft. From the time she was a little girl, she dealt with fear, anxiety, nightmares, sickness—you name it. She couldn't remember a time when she wasn't sick.

As an adult, she became a DJ and professional dancer in Holland. During that time, she contracted HPV, which eventually developed into cervical cancer. Even after becoming a believer, she struggled with condemnation. She believed her past disqualified her from receiving healing. That's not the Gospel—that's religion.

When she was diagnosed, fear hit her with thoughts like, You're going to die. You won't see your children grow up. But she sensed the Lord saying, "Jolien, you know that I heal."

When a friend gave her some of our Healing Is Here conference videos, she began listening constantly. As she renewed her mind, fear was replaced with truth. At a Charis healing event in the Netherlands, she received prayer from someone who had been healed of the same condition—and the pain instantly left her body.

She later enrolled in Charis Bible College, where she received the revelation that nothing stood between her and God—Jesus had already paid for everything. Today, she is completely healed and helping others receive their healing.

Healing Is Part of the Gospel

I'm telling you, when you understand God's unconditional love and stop disqualifying yourself, healing isn't difficult. Most of the battle is in your thinking. And once that battle is won, the rest follows.

Some people say God only cares about eternity. But Jesus is the perfect representation of the Father, and He went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed of the devil. There's not a single instance in Scripture where He refused to heal someone who came to Him in faith. If that's God's will in action, then healing belongs to everyone who believes.

Don't Settle for "Crackers and Cheese"

I once heard a story about a man who booked passage on an ocean liner from England to the United States. He had only enough money to buy the ticket, so he packed crackers and cheese to eat during the trip. Each day, he sat alone on the deck eating his meager food while the other passengers enjoyed lavish banquets inside. On the final day, he learned that every meal had been included in his ticket. The whole time, he had access to everything—but he never knew it.

Sad to say, most Christians live that way. They've got their ticket to heaven, but they're living on crackers and cheese. Being born again doesn't just mean forgiveness of sins. It includes healing, joy, peace, provision, relationship with God—everything Jesus purchased.

That's why we've put together these Healing Journeys volumes with over forty miracles—including terminal illnesses and even resurrections. Faith comes by hearing, and you've got to hear God's Word, believe it, and act on it. When you hear these testimonies of people putting God's Word into action, you'll be inspired to put His promises into practice.

We want to help you receive the healing Jesus already purchased for you, so I encourage you to start with the free booklet The Truth About Healing; then explore

God Wants You Well (book or USB) and the Healing Journeys DVDs—individual volumes 1–9 or the complete package.

These testimonies will build your faith and help you receive what Jesus died to give you.

Investing in these resources is small compared to what people spend on medicine—and far more powerful. God wants you well. The table has already been set. Are you ready to take your place?

BIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS WITH ANDREW WOMMACK

IN JESUS, THERE'S FREEDOM FROM EVERY CURSE

Question: Is there such a thing as a generational curse?

Answer: There are generational curses mentioned in the Bible, where judgment was laid upon the third and fourth generations. But Christ has redeemed us from the curse of the Law.

So yes, curses do exist. For example, if you were raised in a family where everybody was an alcoholic or a drug dealer, the demonic spirits that drive people into those behaviors can be passed on to the next generation. However, they can't be passed on without your consent and cooperation.

Proverbs 26:2 says, "The curse causeless shall not come." In other words, you have to submit to it and accept it. These things do exist. If you want it, you can have it; but if you don't want it, you can get rid of it through Jesus. You do not have to live your life under the curse of what has gone on in your family.

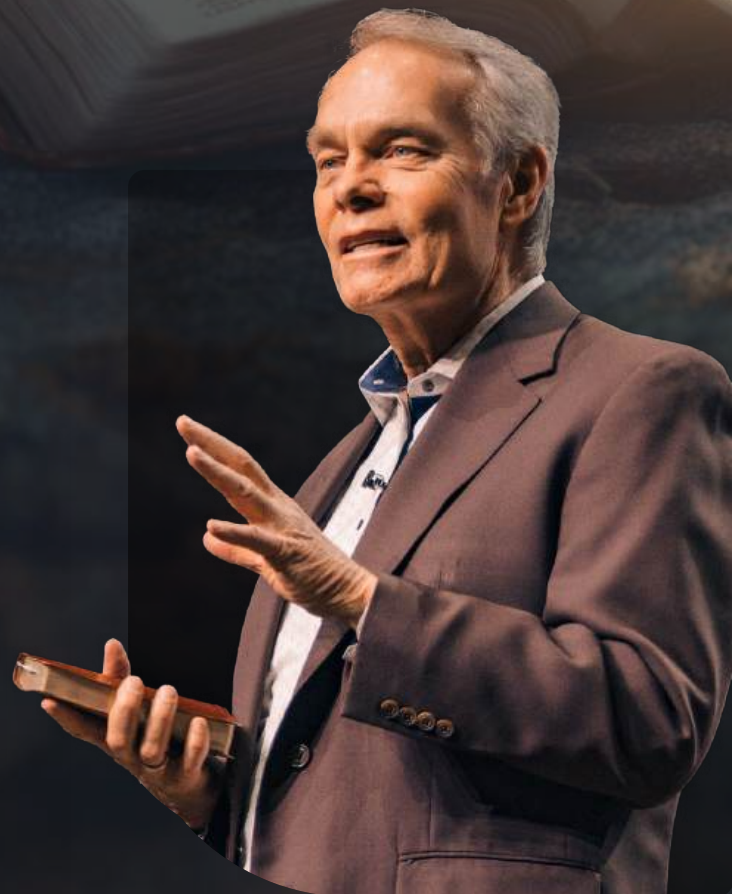

If you will simply stand up and say, "Through Jesus, I am free from this curse," it's over. You don't have to have somebody come and counsel you, or go back into your mother's womb and rebuke this stuff. It's as simple as saying, "Christ redeemed me from the curse, and I refuse to have it."

YOU HAVE THE AUTHORITY IN CHRIST

Question: Isaiah 54:17 says, "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn." Can God use someone else to stop a spiritual attack against you without you being aware of it?

Answer: Yes, through intercession, but it will not be as powerful as if you stand up yourself. Nobody has as much authority over you as you do. You can have an intercessor who can influence you and help you, but they can't do it for you. It's like this: if your car is in neutral, I can push it—but if you've got it in park or if you've got your foot on the brake, it won't move. So, you have to at least be in cooperation. And you can't always depend on somebody else being there to push you. You need to get to where you can do it on your own. ■

KNOWING YOUR TRUE IDENTITY WELL

Have you ever wrestled with understanding your true worth and identity?

Too often, we define ourselves by what we do—our jobs, our skills, or our achievements. We live as though we're a "do to be." But God invites us to live as a "be to do"—to first know who we are in Him and then to let our actions flow from that identity.

Have you received the revelation that you are fearfully and wonderfully made? If not, it's time to let that truth sink in. You were created with divine skill and intention. God molded and shaped you into the person He designed you to be. You are not a mistake.

For You formed my inward parts; You covered me in my mother's womb. I will praise You, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made; Marvelous are Your works, And that my soul knows very well. My frame was not hidden from You, When I was made in secret, And skillfully wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.

Psalm 139:13–15, New King James Version, emphasis added

The question is, Does your soul know that very well? Many believers struggle to fully accept who God made them to be, and as a result, their souls are not prospering.

When I was growing up, my soul didn't know this truth very well at all. In fact, I believed the opposite. I wrapped my identity around my talents, thinking that if I could succeed or impress people, they might like me or love me more.

If you feel you need to add something to yourself to be valuable, you're missing the truth of who you really are. You're living like an orphan when, all along, you are a son or daughter. You're caught in a "do to be" mindset—trying to find identity in what you do—rather than living from the identity God has already given you. And that's a dead-end street.

If our identity isn't rooted in our achievements, then how do we know what we're really worth? Value is determined by what someone is willing to pay. Jesus redefined our worth by the price He paid for us.

“If you feel you need to add something to yourself to be valuable, you're missing the truth of who you really are.”

— Greg Mohr

Like the merchant seeking beautiful pearls (Matt. 13:45–46), Jesus sought us. He purchased us with His own blood and declares us valuable, beautiful, and worth the cost.

If you're still trying to add value to your identity, remember this: Jesus has already declared your worth. You don't need to earn it—you simply need to believe it.

So the next time you find yourself struggling with questions about your identity, remind yourself of this truth:

You are fearfully and wonderfully made. ■

Healing is part of the Gospel—fully purchased by Jesus and included in your salvation. Yet many believers are held back by false ideas, such as believing God uses sickness to teach them a lesson or that healing only happened in Bible times. Healing Journeys reveals the undeniable truth that God wants you well. Don't settle for less than what Jesus has already provided. Take a step of faith, listen to these life-changing testimonies, and allow God's healing power to transform your life today.
