WHEN GRACE TAKES ROOT: TRANSFORMATION IN TAIWAN

And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

2 Timothy 2:2

From the classrooms to the nations, you are equipping a global body.

Through your partnership, believers are receiving the truth of God's unconditional love and grace in places like Taiwan, where we recently launched a Charis Bible College campus with thirty-four students in the First- and Second-Year classes.

Cindy Pearson, the director of Andrew Wommack Ministries Asia, shared, "The people in Asia are just amazing. They are so loving, so caring, so hard-working. Many of them have been oppressed by their past or by not understanding how to be loved. And so our students come into class a little nervous because they want to do a good job, and yet they begin to experience an atmosphere of real freedom."

FREEDOM BREAKING IN

Through the teaching of God's unconditional love and grace, Charis Taiwan students are discovering who they truly are in Christ—bringing freedom from every kind of bondage.

One such student, Amy Hong, had been secretly battling severe depression. When the school's interpreter couldn't make it one day, Brad Harrison, a Charis Taiwan coordinator, asked Amy to step in—unaware that the very message she would translate would become the key to her freedom.

Amy shared, "During my depression, I could not pray. I could not read the Bible. When Brad asked me to translate, I did not think I could do it at all. The devil kept telling me, 'God will not help you. Why are they choosing you? They can choose anyone.'"

"But I decided to do it," Amy continued. "Brad said, 'God didn't create us to be comfortable in our flesh. We were made to be comfortable leaning into Jesus.' That word came alive in me, and I knew I was healed."

As Amy leaned into Jesus, she was transformed. Strengthened by the Holy Spirit, she not only translated the message but also found freedom from depression and the lies that once clouded her mind.

Today, she boldly shares the life-changing teachings of Charis with the congregation she and her husband pastor.

Amy shared, "I would like to encourage people who are in depression to listen to the Scriptures all day long or listen to Andrew's teachings. Those teachings, those truths, will cast out the lies."

A GLOBAL FAMILY IN MOTION

The impact goes far beyond the classroom. Through our global network of Charis campuses, students and alumni are mobilizing to meet real needs and bring hope in moments of crisis around the world.

Another Charis Taiwan coordinator, Leny Harrison, shared a recent testimony: "A woman from California wrote to Charis Hong Kong and said, 'My mother's friend in Taiwan is having tremendous back pain. Could someone visit and minister to her? We contacted two alumni in Taiwan, and they reached out to her. They did such a tremendous job. They shared some healing scriptures for her to meditate on.'" Leny continued, "She was already a Christian. When they ministered to her, she was baptized in the Holy Spirit and started speaking in tongues. And then, when they prayed for her healing, she was instantly healed."

YOUR FRUIT IN ASIA

These are just a few of the testimonies already coming in—but none of it would be possible without the faithful support of you, our World Outreach Partners.

Cindy shared, "This is your fruit. Every person that we reach, every life transformed—that is your fruit, because you sowed into this ministry to help make it happen."

Thank you, friends and partners. Because of your generosity, believers in Taiwan are being equipped with the life-changing message of God's love and grace. As they discover their identity in Christ and are set free from bondage, they are now carrying that same message of life and freedom to others.
